40 FARMERS ENTER COTTON CONTEST HERE

Period of Registration End July 1—Records of Wilbarger County Man Last Year Indicate Advantages of Local Farmers.

Farmers may not enter "More Cotton on Fewer Acres," contest later than July 1, according to an announcement by P. D. Chaney, local county agent. About forty farmers have entered the contest up to date, and several are expected to register in the next few days. Mr. Chaney states.

The local county agent advises the farmers of this county to enter the contest as they have every advantage this year, and records made of the crops entered last year show that cotton may be raised in this county at a smaller cost per pound production than in any other county which has entered in the contest.

E. H. Littleton, a farmer living a few miles west of Vernon, took second place in the contest last year, raising 5,030 pounds of lint cotton on five acres. The winner raised only 5,081 pounds. But while the winner spent a total of $620.39, Mr. Littleton spent only $490.42, counting the cost of seed, labor, and transportation.

Records show that Mr. Littleton did every phase of the work at a much smaller cost than did the winner. J. W. McFarlane, an Anderson county farmer, in Anderson county, $71.80 was spent on labor at twenty cents an hour, in Wilbarger $10.70; in Anderson $22.80 for labor at ten cents an hour, in Wilbarger $11.99; in Anderson $48.75 for fertilizer, in Wilbarger county $5.40; in Anderson $12.21 per hundred pounds for growing and picking cotton, in Wilbarger $9.75.

Production cost the Anderson county farmer $124.08 per acre, while the Wilbarger farmer made an expenditure of $98.08 per acre. At twenty cents per pound, Mr. Littleton made a net profit of $103.12 per acre, while the Anderson county farmer cleared only $79.12. This indicates the chances that Wilbarger county farmers have for winning in the contest this year.

Mr. Littleton not only beat the winner in cost per pound production, but his record shows a smaller cost per pound production than does that of any of the first thirty-eight in total production. L. F. Mock of Hall county was the local man's closest contestant in cost per pound production. The Hall county farmer produced 3,000 pounds of lint cotton on the five acres at a total cost of $312.00, a cost of $62.40 per acre. At twenty cents per pound, the Hall county farmer cleared only $57.60 per acre.

While farmers are contemplating entering the contest, Mr. Chaney asks that they consider the comparative amount of rainfall that Wilbarger county has had this year. No county in Texas can boast of better chances for a bumper crop, Mr. Chaney states.

New Highway Law Declared Void By Attorney General

Speeding motorist on highways may still be arrested by officers other than those specially appointed by commissioners' courts and wearing distinctive uniforms, according to a recent holding of the Attorney General's Department, which stated that that provision of the new highway law was unconstitutional because it was not listed in the caption of the law.

Other peace officers may make arrests for violation of laws relating to highways to the same extent as if this inhibitory provision had not been inserted in the law, and this is true whether the commissioners' court furnishes any traffic officers or not.

No fees can be charged by any county highway officer for any service performed by him, but the rule does not apply to other officers making highway arrests.

COMPANY "L" ENTRAINS FOR CAMP JULY 2

Local Unit of National Guard Will Spend Two Weeks at Camp Mabry—Members To See Many Historic Places While There.

Company "L," local unit of the National Guard, with several new recruits, will leave Vernon Thursday, June 2, for the annual encampment to be held at Camp Mabry, Austin, July 3-17, according to a recent announcement by Captain Clyde Watts, commanding officer of Company "L." The full quota of thirty-six men which is required to go from Vernon has not been reached yet. Captain Watts states, and anyone wishing to go on the encampment may register yet.

Austin is preparing to furnish special entertainment for the members of the encampment this year, according to advance notices. Trucks will be furnished to take the boys from Camp Mabry to the city at any time they wish to go after they are released from duty. Members of the camp will be given outings on Lake Austin, and will be given opportunities to see the many historic places around Austin, including the Confederate museum, the old home of the French embassy which has stood on the crest of Robertson Hill since the days of the Texas Republic, the tomb of the great Confederate general, Albert Sidney Johnston, Ney's studio, the grand old home of Major George W. Littlefield.

Located on a mound and surrounded by woods two miles from Austin, Camp Mabry itself is an attraction. A quarter of a mile back of it stands Mount Bonnell. When standing on the peak of this, one has the entire valley surrounding the capitol city stretched out before the eyes. By merely turning around one looks over historic Lover's Leap into the clear waters of Lake Austin, a hundred yards below. Looking northwest, one may look up the course of the Colorado River for miles as it winds its way out of the hills.

One needs not wish for mountain climbing while stationed at Camp Mabry, as the camp is located near several tall peaks. Two beautiful bathing beaches, Deep Eddy and Barton Springs, will be used by members of the encampment.

BUSINESS MEN VOTE TO CLOSE STORES JULY 3

Chamber of Commerce Delegation and Vernon Concert Band Will Go to Electra for District Convention Program and Races.

The business houses of Vernon will close all day next Friday instead of Saturday, July fourth, according to R. M. Fielder, secretary of the local chamber of commerce. With the business houses closed that day, a local delegation composed of several local men and the Vernon Concert Band will go to Electra for the meeting of the Red River District Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce which will be in session there on July 2-3.

Friday was chosen as the day for closing by the business men owing to the fact that the farmers are more likely to observe Saturday and will come to town and transact business on that day, Mr. Fielder says. No general agreement could be reached for closing on any other day. Monday was suggested as the date for closing, but owing to the fact that it is the first Monday of the month, it was not considered good business to close on that day.

Efforts are being made to charter a special car to take the Vernon delegation to Electra, and a large number of Vernon citizens is expected to attend the program there, according to the Chamber of Commerce official. A varied program has been prepared for the visitors. In addition to the Waggoner races, a district golf tournament will be held during Friday morning. A barbecue at the Waggoner race track will be another feature of the entertainment for the visitors. The Electra Rotary Club has prepared a special program for visiting rotarians, it is announced.

Harry Carey On Now; 'Classmates' Here Wednesday

There are any number of admittedly fine actors who invariably surround themselves with inferior casts in order that their own capabilities may be magnified by contrast. Harry Carey, star of "Beyond the Border," the Hunt Stromberg production which is coming to the Vernon Theater for a two day run starting today, does not stoop to such methods.

In this picture he does his most notable work to date, and he is surrounded by a cast of seasoned trouper-actors who contribute in a large part to the high achievement of the picture as a glowing example of what a westerner should be.

Tom Santschi, who is a star in his own right, with a large fan following gives a very pleasing portrayal of a villain whose evil jeopardizes the happiness of many persons.

William Scott, the juvenile lead, is recognized as one of the most capable actors in the industry. The charm and popularity of Mildred Harris in the leading role opposite Carey is sufficient to detract a good portion of interest from any star less impressive than this westerner.

Monday and Tuesday, Louis Stone and Florence Vidor, in "Husbands and Lovers," a splendid First National picture.

Richard Barthelmess' new First National production, "Classmates," which comes to the Vernon Theater on Wednesday only, has an interesting and unusual history.

This picturesque and colorful story of West Point life was written by William De Mille and Margaret Turnbull long before either thought of motion picture associations. Now Mr. De Mille is a famous director and Miss Turnbull a widely known scenario writer. Then, however, they were struggling playwrights. "Classmates" is based upon an actual incident at West Point.

Riley Easily Wins Over Sullivan in Thursday Tussle

Barney Riley, local wrestler, defeated Jack Sullivan, nephew of John L. Sullivan, in two straight falls at the local arena last night. Riley pinned the visitor's shoulders to the mat in three minutes in the first fall, and slightly over seven in the second fall.

Sullivan, although he showed considerable strength and science, was clearly no match for the local wrestler. Riley had him out-weighted by a good margin, and the heavier man used his weight to good advantage throughout the match.

The visitor never threatened to throw Riley but one time. During the second heat, Sullivan forced Riley's shoulders to the mat with a body scissors, but failed to hold him there until the referee came around to see him.

After the match, Sullivan admitted his defeat, and challenged any boxer of his weight.

Miss Vera Lee Hamilton, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. B. Ross, has returned to her home in Plainville.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Baldwin and son, Russell E., of Memphis, are visiting their daughter and sister, Mrs. T. L. Rouse.

Marriage Problem Play Here Monday ---Mix Tomorrow

An astonishing and history-making film is promised in "So This Is Marriage," Hobart Henley's production for Metro-Goldwyn, which is coming to the Pictorium Monday for a two-day run. It is not only a shrewd study of married life as lived to-day, but also shows that similar conditions confronted young couples in the time of the ancients. A marvelously beautiful interlude is used to illustrate this part of the story, dealing with the old Biblical tale of King David and Bath-Sheba. This section has been photographed in natural color.

Duke, famous great Dane of Tom Mix, has come into his own at last and hardly deigns to give Tony, his lifelong companion, a friendly bark now and then. In the newest Mix picture "Teeth," directed by J. G. Blystone, the two principal characters are Duke and Tony. Tom, it seems, is only in the east. Duke insists that he is playing the title role and offers as proof the fact that he has better, sharper, and longer teeth than Tony. It probably will require a horse and dog envoy extraordinary and nabster plenipotentiary to restore peace in the Mixville corral after "Teeth" which comes to the Pictorium tomorrow.

Human monkeys, when unsuspecting of their resemblance to the alleged missing link, can be funnier and can cause more merriment than any that ever hailed from the jungle, according to the consensus of opinion. Darwinism is being shown up in such a humorous way at the Pictorium today in the really clever play, "Darwin Was Right." The whole plot is based on the discussion, pro and con, of whether man descended from a monkey, and is out of the regular run of movie plays.

Prizes Offered by Company for Best Letter on Benefits Derived From Life Insurance

That Vernon is one of the best points for the sale of life insurance in the country, size considered, is the statement made by H. A. Wittliff, state manager for the International Life Insurance Company after reviewing the condition of his business throughout the country, according to C. C. Young, state advertising manager for Mr. Wittliff, who was here this week on business in connection with the Company's affairs in Vernon.

The International is writing business at the rate of about $100,000 per month through the local office, which is in charge of A. B. Hays, according to Mr. Wittliff's statement, Vernon has been one of the best producing points in the entire territory for several years. T. H. Haney, who was formerly in charge of the office here, established a record that was unequalled anywhere else in the country, according to the state manager. Mr. Haney not only led Texas in new business, but led the Company's force throughout the country. Mr. Hays is now in charge of the district office in Wichita Falls. Three facts speak well for the foresight of people here and to the prosperity of Wilbarger county. As a mean of interesting the people of Vernon and Wilbarger County in the subject of life insurance, the International is offering throughout Mr. Hays, the local representative, $20 in prizes for the best letters setting forth the benefits of life insurance. A half page ad in this issue of The Record suggests some of the thing to be considered in outlining the benefits to be derived from life insurance. The rules of the contest, however, are very liberal and those who write letters need not confine themselves to the matters suggested in the advertisement. Those or any other reasons for carrying life insurance may be outlined.

The letters should be sent in care of The Record and they will be turned over to judges of the contest, who will award the prizes on the basis of merit. It is not necessary to call special attention to policies issued by the International. The purpose of the contest is to get the people to studying life insurance as a business proposition and not to boost the interests of any one company.

Mr. Young, who was in the city yesterday, urges the people to enter the contest and send in letters at once. The letters should not be too long. Make them concise and forceful. Mr. Young suggests, placing emphasis upon the best arguments for carrying insurance, according to the writer's viewpoint. The winning letter will be published in The Record as soon as possible after the prize is awarded.

Buy Your Studebaker—Now!

You may buy a Studebaker today—or on any day of the year—with the confident assurance that no act of ours will stigmatize it as a "last year's model"

STUDEBAKER has discontinued the custom of presenting a new line of automobiles each year. Instead of bringing Studebaker cars dramatically up-to-date once in twelve months, we shall keep them up-to-date all of the time—with every improvement made available by our great engineering and manufacturing resources.

Improvements and refinements, of course, will be made from time to time. New features will be added. As in the past, we shall continue to pioneer all vital betterments. But Studebaker will have no yearly models to make your July car obsolete in August.

A dramatic story

There is a dramatic story behind this new Studebaker policy that vitally concerns everyone who expects to buy an automobile this year.

Amazing records of Studebaker performance and endurance prove beyond question that the present line of Studebaker cars is so soundly engineered and manufactured and so satisfactory in the hands of owners that drastic annual changes are not required.

Authentic reports show that hundreds of Studebaker cars have given from 125,000 to 400,000 miles of sturdy, dependable service. One Studebaker Big Six, used as a mail car, traveled almost 500,000 miles in 5½ years, giving 24-hour round trip service between Bakersfield and Los Angeles, California.

Stupendous mileage! But the same stamina and rugged dependability is built into every Studebaker that leaves the factory.

A Studebaker taxi in Jewett City, Conn., has traveled 31,008 miles without even having the valves ground or the carbon removed.

In Stockton, Calif., a Studebaker Big Six has piled up 138,000 miles over steep mountain grades and rough country roads with negligible upkeep—not a single major part has been purchased or repaired by reason of wear or accident.

It is a significant fact that wherever travel conditions are most severe, Studebaker by far outsells its normal proportion of cars.

Bus Operators, Rent-a-Car Companies, Police and Fire Departments—all turn to Studebaker year after year for their transportation equipment, because they have found that it always yields scores of thousands of miles of reserve transportation, and has low upkeep costs.

At the mileage when other cars are breaking up—Studebaker cars are breaking in. It's the second and third fifteen thousand miles that prove Studebaker superiority. It's this reserve mileage—even though you may never use it—that greatly increases Studebaker resale value.

Stamina is built-in—innate—a vital and indispensable part of the Studebaker formula for building fine motor cars.

Buy this "One Profit" car now

Remember—under this new Studebaker policy—there is no need to delay the purchase of your new automobile until annual changes have been made. Come in and see these sturdy, dependable, "one-profit" automobiles. Today Studebaker offers greater values than ever before. It is sound judgment to buy now.

SCOPES SHOULD WORRY.

The young Tennessee school teacher who stands charged with a criminal violation of the laws of his state for the alleged teaching of evolution is not in such a bad way, after all. He seems to be free of the worries that are supposed to beset a conscientious person when confronted with the prospect of being sent to jail for violating the laws of his country. If press dispatches afford any very correct insight into the developments in the famous case.

But Mr. Scopes—that is the name of the young man—does have some worries and troubles in his new found fame. He went up to New York recently, all expenses paid by an organization interested in his case, to consult with the group of distinguished lawyers who had agreed to defend him, free of any charges. The young Tennessee teacher was a much-sought-after person. All the newspapers sent reporters to interview him. He was besieged by photographers who wanted to take his picture. He was interviewed and entertained by eminent scientists, professors, and even preachers. All told, he had a strenuous time in New York, so strenuous, in fact, that he was compelled on the advice of eminent physicians to deny himself to all callers and take a rest in order to avoid a nervous breakdown.

But that is not all. The inevitable movie man was there begging young Scopes to accept a contract at a mere $150,000 a year or some such sum. The vaudeville managers were on hand offering contracts. Lecture bureau managers just simply begged him to accept contracts at figures that must have bewildered an obscure country school teacher, for that was all Scopes was until he ran amok of the anti-evolution law and became famous.

Those who preferred charges against Scopes and got him arrested have conferred a boon on him he couldn't have gotten in any other way, unless he had really done something outstanding, like becoming engaged to a princess, or eloping with a wealthy widow three times his own age, or getting lost in a cave. He is now a famous man and can soon become a rich man by accepting some of the contracts that are being shoved under his nose by shrewd men who know good press agent stuff when they see it and know how morbidly curious a lot of us American people are. Thousands of people will go to hear this country school teacher lecture, or just to see him walk across a vaudeville stage.

Still some folks say advertising doesn't pay!

GERMAN CREDULITY.

Over in Germany, it seems that promises made by campaign orators are taken seriously by the voters. At any rate, an Associated Press dispatch a day or two ago informs us that several hundred holders of deprecatory Government bonds forced an interview with Government leaders to remind them that the voters had been assured that the election of Von Hindenburg to the presidency would mean that the Government would redeem its obligations in outstanding bonds held by German investors.

Von Hindenburg has been in office some time now, and no doubt some of the people who owned the depreciated securities got tired of waiting for the Government to make good.

Political campaigns are somewhat new to the German people at least the regular kind, such as we know them in this country, where the candidates have a habit of promising everything from a cure for corns to exemption from taxes. It seems that the German politicians learned the tricks of democracy more readily than did their constituents. This must be true, because we heard nothing about the politicians believing that campaign promises were to be taken seriously, while their credulous constituents swallowed the bait.

About the only difference between the German voters and American voters is that we don't actually try to enforce compliance with campaign promises. We Americans swallow the bait and vote for men who promise things no officeholder can deliver. We don't get mad and march down to the capital and demand fulfillment of campaign promises. We grumble a little and then at the next election turn around and vote for the same fellows on a new set of promises. Democracy is a wonderful thing and no doubt the German voters in time will learn to play the game.

MONTE-COMO BOUT IS DRAW

IN HIGHLY INTERESTING PRELIMINARY PARKER WINS DECISION OVER MANIS.

Wildcat Monte of Wichita Falls and Kid Como of Lawton, Okla., sparred and clinched to a ten-round draw in the main event of the fight card at the local arena Tuesday night. Both boxers appeared to have too much respect for the other's ability to push the fight after the first few rounds.

Monte had all of his old time speed, and hammered constantly with his right to the body while in the clinches, but with little effect, as he landed but few long-range blows to complete the work started by his body blows.

The Oklahoma boxer depended on the Wichita lad to do all the leading throughout the early part of the fight, but opened up in the last three rounds in a visible effort to turn the decision in his favor. Although he took the eighth and ninth round, and fought to a good draw in the final stanza, he had remained inactive too long through the early part of the fight to deserve a decision.

The most interesting bout of the card Tuesday night was the four round preliminary between Slugging Ralph Parker and Connie Manis, both of Vernon, in which Parker won the decision.

Powell and Gilliland, local promoters, are making an effort of slugging slugging, and Parker is the favorite in that type of fighting. The hefty Vernon lad has a barnyard swing that, should it connect, would make a Missouri mule withdraw from a kicking contest on account of unnecessary roughness. That the wide-swinging right seldom lands on anything is no fault of Parker's as he aims well and makes sure that everything is set before he releases a blow. He cannot be blamed if his opponent casually decides to move around a bit while the right is on its way, and then forgets to step in front of it later on.

Connie Manis had no little trouble with Parker's right Tuesday night. Connie quickly developed a commendable habit of ducking when he saw the right approaching in its wide swing, but never became adroit in judging the length of time it took the swing to pass over, and usually raised up just in time to stop it in its wayward charge with the point of his chin.

Parker showed fans a new form of fighting by coolly turning his back on his opponent and making a circle around the ring each time after delivering one of his hard rights. Manis stepped up behind once and landed a right with all he had behind it, but failed to break Parker of his habit.

This bout kept the crowd in an uproar, and was well worth the charges. A foul by Rabbit Nye in his bout with Kid Hullum ended another interesting part of the program. The boys were mixing it lively, and Nye accidentally struck low in the third stanza, knocking his opponent out. Hullum was given the decision on the foul.

Fans were well entertained by a three-round curtain-raiser between Kid Armstrong and Sluggie Bridges, two youngsters of about ten years. Bridges won the decision.

Few Register in Army for Defense Day Program Here

Men are registering slowly for the Defense Test Day army, according to members of the local master committee, Mrs. Bertha Ross, Mrs. W. N. Stokes, and Mrs. R. B. Gibson. Local officials of the American Legion request that all men within military age register, as a report of the military strength of this county must be made to the state department.

Those who register for the Defense Test Day will not be obligated in any way, according to local officials. The Defense Test Day is only a part of a national scheme to test the military strength of the nation.

Following are the reasons for the test:

To emphasize the responsibility of the individual citizen for his share of the national defense under the American idea of democracy.

To acquaint the citizenship with the defense policy of the republic and with the part it would be called on to play if the nation were attacked.

To deepen, by patriotic exercises, loyalty to country.

To permit the trained leaders of the Regular Army, National Guard, and Organized Reserves, once a year to check up on the plans for national defense.

Mildred McLarty Marries Quannah Man Tuesday

In a quiet home wedding Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Mildred McLarty of this city and Wayne Williams of Quannah were united in marriage. Only the immediate families and close friends of the two young people were present.

To the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Edith Hanna of Quannah at the piano, the bridal party entered the living room, where Dr. E. F. Lyon of the First Baptist church awaited them. Proceeding the bride came her sister and maid-of-honor, Miss Blanche McLarty, wearing a model of georgette in a soft shade of yellow and carrying an arm bouquet of white carnations. The bride entered alone, dressed all in white, with a corsage of pink roses. Her dress was of white georgette, trimmed in white lace. Last came Mr. Williams and his best man, Boone Horne, of Quannah.

Out of town guests included the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barton Williams, his sister, Miss Christine Williams, Miss Edith Hanna and Boone Horne, all of Quannah.

Mrs. Williams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McLarty of Vernon, an honor graduate of the local high school and former student in the University of Texas. Mr. Williams, whose home is in Quannah, received his degree in electrical engineering from the State University in the recent commencement exercises of that school, where he has made a very good scholastic record.

The young people will visit for a few days with relatives here and in neighboring towns. They will be at home in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, where Mr. Williams is to be connected with the Westinghouse Electric Company.

At the Churches

Presbyterian Church.

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.
The school will suffer in interest and attendance if you do not come, therefore we expect you.
The pastor will preach at 11 a. m. and 8:15 p. m. We begin and close on time.

It is less expensive to go to church than to drive your car; it is more honorable than to go fishing; it is more comfortable than to play golf. Your conscience will not condemn you if you go to church, therefore do the right thing, be at the morning and evening service. If the preacher "stand it" you ought to be able to "sit it" for an hour.
